About @travelswithmyphone

@travelswithmyphone is a visual diary and virtual tour guide showcasing what makes the places I visit special via bright, crisp imagery that draws the viewer into my story. I focus on dramatic landscapes, architecture and the most interesting places to explore, stay, eat, drink and shop in a location, whether wild or luxurious, but well off the beaten track.

About me

Hi, I'm Rachel, a travel and food photographer from Scotland. You can find me on Instagram as @travelswithmyphone where I have +100k followers. I love to travel, with family, alone, with friends and other photographers. Being outdoors, on a bike, wild swimming, walking or climbing (while taking photos) is what makes me tick. I also love smaller scale adventures with my son. If not travelling I'll be exploring my beautiful home city of Edinburgh and finding new hidden gems and places to eat and drink. We are also slowly rebuilding an old house in the Scottish countryside into a studio and eco friendly retreat space.

Recent work

Earlier this year we identified Rachel as someone we would like to collaborate with on a project for a client of ours, Avios . The project was all about inspiring people to travel to Edinburgh, somewhere Rachel had an excellent knowledge of and showcased daily via her stunning photography on Instagram.

After our initial conversations, it was clear she would be perfect for the project. She was passionate, enthusiastic, professional and was full of ideas on how we could maximise the impact of the campaign.

Rachel delivered some fantastic work on an extremely tight deadline with no problems whatsoever. Working with her was an absolute pleasure and I hope we get the opportunity to work together again in the future.
